Sacred Heart Rocks!

On your marks, get set go!

Today marks the start of the Sacred Heart school pebble race #SHCpebblerrace. Over half term the students have decorated their rocks. We have everything from beautiful sparkles to cute insects. The students will hide the rocks in a public place over the weekend, so keep your eyes open. With luck they will be found and posted using the hashtag #SHCpebblerrace and then re-hidden. We are hoping to be able to follow their progress over the next few weeks. If you join 'SHS pebble race' on Facebook you can follow their progress. Miss Childerhouse

Year 3 Awards

Year 5 have been growing potatoes – we planted them in mid-March, and have predicted how tall they might grow, and when we will harvest them. The class chose to split into two teams – Girls vs. Boys – and we have been measuring the potato plants every day to track their progress. It has been incredibly exciting to guess what is going on underground and the competition has been fierce! On Thursday we eventually harvested our spuds, with interesting results! The girls' plant was much larger, but yielded far fewer potatoes. Whilst the boys' plant was short, but grew 3 times as many potatoes! However, the girls' potatoes were voted as the better tasting ones. Whilst we decided that the boys' potatoes would be great baked or roasted due to their fluffy texture.

There was no overall winner, but I'm confident that we have a new generation of gardeners and potato farmers on our hands! Miss Scrafield & Miss Hart
